Communication Response And Feedback Activity - Board Games

Objective: To allow students to demonstrate ability to follow written instructions given by another student and give appropriate feedback on the instructions given.

- Step 1: Pair students up and have them exchange Technical Writing Board Games. Each student will need a rubric to grade their partner's assignment. Students need to separate and not sit in close proximity to each other.
- Step 2: Each student will individually follow the directions of their partner's game. They may use only the materials and written instructions they have been given. They may not ask for clarification.
- Step 3: Using the rubric, the students will grade the Technical Writing Game of their partner.
- Step 4: When finished grading, students need to get back into partners. Students will then provide verbal feedback on how well they were able to accomplish the activity as written. Students need to go over the rubric with each other and clarify any misconceptions and justify the score given
