

FACS Content Areas

Can you name the topics covered by family and consumer sciences? Although they differ a bit from state to state and in exact wording, the broad categories are: Consumer Education; Education and Training; Food, Nutrition and Wellness; Housing and Interior Design; Human Growth and Development; Marriage and Family Life; Textiles and Apparel. That list might make for a great bonus question, if such a thing is still allowed at your school!

Impact Hours

Teachers: Please have your VP of Community Service use the following link to track the impact your chapter/classes have on communities in Oklahoma. Once you click the link, scroll down until you see the Impact Hours section. Every line requires an answer, so instruct your officer to place a "0" in the portions that do not apply.

Scholarship Opportunities

Educational Research Center of America is calling on high school students to present original ideas which address a pressing need in their community. First place will receive $5,000, two runners up will receive $2,500, and 15 students will receive $1,000 to be used on higher education expenses. Deadline is July 25, 2018. Submit your idea today.

Slow Internet slows down your work. Snap a picture showing your need for high speed Internet service at your school and be entered to win a $10,000 scholarship from Dosomething.org. Submit your picture today.

Freezer Meals for Class and Fundraising

Check out the entrepreneur skills this FCS program is learning! Their teacher was giving presentations in town about homemade freezer meals and meal kits. Students made freezer meals in class, then grew a business delivering frozen meals to those in the area. Students accept orders via google forms, learn costing, purchasing, advertising and a whole host of skills. They prepare one meal a month that serves 4-6 people and sell it for $15. Maybe a great fundraiser? Listen to the teacher's webinar where she describes what they have done here:

Online Clothing/Accessory Users, Earn $15

Have you or any of your female students used any online clothing and accessory rental sites? (e.g., Bag, Borrow, or Steal, Gwynnie Bee, Rent the Runway)

Do you or your female students buy and/or sell clothing or fashion accessories via online consignment or swapping websites? (e.g., Listia, Poshmark, Thredup) If so, you can earn $15 for sharing your experience with us! We are conducting a research study to understand the female consumer experience with these online platforms. We will conduct an in-depth phone interview that will require less than an hour of your time.

Would you be interested in talking to us? Yes?! Great! Click HERE to provide your contact information and tell us a little about your shopping habits. The link will be live through December. Thank you for your consideration of this research project!

Free CIMC Handbook

Check out the new free download available from CIMC: This handbook offers a framework for teachers to develop self-paced learning modules for their CareerTech courses. Topics include accessibility, copyright and fair use, organization, planning, grading, rubrics, testing and more!
