Hello Rose

Welcome to Rose Mangold, who began as the FCS Administrative Assistant II on October 17. Please be patient with Rose as she learns the ropes (and abbreviations) associated with CareerTech and FCS!

Bring Back Home Ec

If, like many of us, you answer this statement by screaming in your head, "IT NEVER LEFT," then this item is for you! Encourage your students and/or chapters to enter slogans and/or designs for use in promoting family and consumer sciences and the life skills we teach. Submit your designs and/or slogans to terri.hollarn@careertech.ok.gov on or before December 10 with the subject line "Home economics never left." Include the creator's name in case we use your design in print or social media!

Lead Evaluations

Advisers, please remember to complete the LEAD evaluations for Linda.

OK Teen Birth Rate

You can participate in an evidence based program to implement sexual risk avoidance education in Oklahoma. What's in it for you? $500 for your classroom, incentives for your students, and the knowledge that you are helping Oklahoma teens reduce their chance of early birth. Teen moms traditionally have a lower level of schooling which typically reduces earnings and family income. According to the National Center for Health Statistics in 2016, Oklahoma had 33.4 births per 1,000 females ages 15-19, second only to Arkansas. Oklahoma has ranked second in teen birth rates from 2013-2016. Training for those selected for the project will be January 13-15, 2020. Be a part of the solution and sign up today!
