FACS I – Child Care/Development File or Book
Risa Demeter
Mustang Mid-High, Mustang, OK

The objectives of this child care activity overlaps with all objectives of "Providing Responsible Childcare," CIMC Unit C, Section 6.

During the FACS I Providing Responsible Childcare unit, I have added this hands on activity. I have found that students listen better to notes and lectures while doing this activity. Students use a variety of resources to research the information. These resources include but are not limited to: notes, textbook, child development books supplied by teacher, and internet research.

I have had many emails and comments from parents about how this project has helped the student become a better child care provider.

Supplies:
> Computer access
> Comb binding machine and 1 ½" combs
> Card stock white paper for front and back cover

Software:
> I have used a variety of software including: Publisher, Word and Print Workshop. My students prefer Publisher, and research various free clip art websites.

Please refer to the "Child Development File" Sheet for contents and instructions on constructing the book.

CHILD DEVELOPMENT FILE

You will need to create a Child Development File/Book.
You will use recipe or index cards (all the same size) or use Publisher and print the pages.
Your file/book will include:

       1 cover card with Name, Hour, Date
       1 Emergency Phone # Card (Not 911) with:
            1. Fire
