Nominate an Outstanding Economic Student by May 1

<https://econisok.org/for-teachers/econstudentawards/>

Only one student per school may be nominated. Here are a few things to help identify your student:

- The student is an economic thinker
- Student does not need to be in an economics class
- Student does not need to be able explain the GDP (but we commend those who can)
- The student has a desire to learn more about economics either directly or within another area of interest (ie. sports, fashion, business, etc.)
- The student you recognize is a leader and inspiration to others on economic education at your school

Frontier City Refunds

For information on how to receive your refund contact:
Kaelyn Streeter, Cell# - 405-886-4973 or email:
kstreeter@sftp.com

A note from Mary Jane:

I recently joined the Zoom meeting with the Dibble Institute for the Mind Matters session. If you personally are having difficulty coping with all that is going on in the world and your life; this resource offers self-care tips and coping mechanisms and I encourage you to join the remaining seven sessions. Not only is this a gift to you now, but the information and materials could also become a teaching resource for Counseling and Mental Health or Human Growth and Development next year. The next session will be Tuesday, April 28; you can also view the sessions you have missed. Register here.
