Video Game Developer

Job Description

A video game developer creates video games and builds websites to help people learn and have fun.

What they do

- Create characters, stories, and activities.
- Design how the games look on the screen.
- Create puzzles to solve in the game.
- Develop instructions for computers to follow so the video games play correctly.

Where they work

- Indoor Offices
- Computer Companies
- Large Corporations

Cool tools they use

- Software (helps to create instructions that tell a computer what to do)
- Computers

Subjects they study

Math, English Language Arts, Art, and Computer Coding

MyCareerShines.org

FL VC