Curriculum Spotlight

The American Association of Family and Consumer Sciences has a promotional initiative for the month of December entitled "Elevate Family and Consumer Sciences". It is designed to celebrate the value and impact of the FCS profession and commemorate the birthday of our founder, Ellen Swallow Richards. The following website link has numerous resources that can be used to celebrate our profession and encourage students to become a Family and Consumer Sciences Education professional. A live binder of lesson plans on the history and life of Ellen Richards can be found under "Classroom Resources". Some fun activities such as pictures with Flat Ellen and video recordings shared on social media are just a couple of opportunities shared on the FCS Friday Resources.
