

Let's Go to College: School Spirit (K-1 A)

Going to college is fun! You can learn so many things in college, like how to speak a new language, how to do a science experiment and how to help those in need. Another activity you can learn is how to show your school spirit. By getting involved in different clubs and campus activities, you can show support and pride at your college. School spirit can also be shown by wearing your college colors or waving flags. Most colleges have mascots that usually attend games or events and help students cheer on their team. Showing school spirit can be fun, and it's a great way to enjoy college.
